PRODUCTION PROCESS:

"PENCA LARGA" means long leaf, referencing the thick and fibrous leaf of the maguey plant. Pulque is made by extracting the mead from maguey plants that are between 8 and 10 years of age. Aged for 6 to 12 months, the mead goes through a fermentation process and pasteurized, resulting in a refreshing beverage. Through its modern production process, PENCA LARGA has a 12-month shelf life.
